“ *I shall miss your mother; she was a dear friend and mentor. If I was having trouble finding the right solution to a problem I would visit with your mom. She would take out a piece of paper draw a line down the middle, and label pro and con at the top of the two columns. We would discuss the issue and arrive at a workable decision using the pro and con method, I still use it. Her laughter, stories, and jokes will always be with me, she was a shining beautiful light. “ I will always be grateful for Evelyns reaching out to me during a major life event, not to mention her laughter, delightfully mischievous sense of humor, kindness, and natural curiosity about the world. Will miss our phone conversations and coffee-filled visits
