

Francis Fay Robinson

August 27, 1936 - May 28, 2025

Fay Robinson was born Francis Fay Lentz in Portland, Oregon to Mabel and Everett Lentz of Bend. She grew up in Central Oregon with her younger brother, Everett Joe Lentz, and a merry gang of elders and cousins. She graduated high school in 1954, and married John Clemens in 1955. She gave birth to her son Brad in 1957 in Bend.

In 1964, Fay and her second husband, Richard Wolthers, adopted twin girls, Bobbie Jo and Wendy Re, while living in The Dalles. The family relocated to Portland in 1969.

Fay's family expanded again in 1973 when she married Allan Robinson, who brought five children; Al Jr, Kris, Sheri, Julie and Scott into the fold. Grandchildren and great-grandchildren have followed.

Over the years, Fay worked in retail, as a telephone operator and in administration. Her favorite hobby was gardening. But, her most enduring work has been as a mother and a mentor.

While she has lived as far afield as California, Nevada and Hawaii; Oregon was in the beginning and will always be her home.

Fay is preceded in death by her husbands, her brother Everett Joe and her daughters Wendy Re Lewis and Bobbie Jo Farwell.
