

Frank Everett Engstrom

December 15, 1923 - June 26, 2014

Frank Everett Engstrom died on Thursday, June 26, 2014, at his home, surrounded by family. Frank was born in New York City and grew up in West Englewood, NJ. His parents were Jessie Catherine and Frank Leon Engstrom, and he had one brother, Robert. Frank graduated from Bucknell University, Pennsylvania, with a degree in mechanical engineering. He was a Lieutenant JG and Naval Aviator during WWII, flying Corsairs and Hellcats. He worked at the Civil Air Patrol field, and later founded Air and Hydraulic Equipment Company in Hackensack, NJ; and was a partner with Versa Products. Frank was a loving husband to his wife Jean for 67 years, and father to four children; Jill, Richard, Roger and Amy. He was also grandfather to 6 grandchildren and 2 great granddaughters. He enjoyed traveling throughout the country with his family, and a game of golf with friends, as well as skiing and camping. Frank also wrote his autobiography, titled: An American Odessey. With a strong leadership, vision and faith, Frank was a main facilitator of the building of the Church of the Transfiguration Episcopal Church in Sisters, Oregon. A funeral service will be held Wednesday, July 2, 2014 at 10:00 AM in the Episcopal Church of the Transfiguration, 68825 Brooks Camp Road, Sisters. Those who wish may make memorial contributions to the Bethlehem Inn, 3705 N. Hwy. 97, Bend, OR 97701.

“ Few have accomplished as much during their time on earth as uncle frank did. He built a thriving business, was instrumental in building a church, even built his house with his own 2 hands. all while raising a family. I still remember that wonderful picture of him flying his WW2 plane taken from another plane with the canopy off, so you can clearly see his face that hung in his house. Many will miss him. Rest in peace uncle frank.
