He was one of six children and the youngest of the group. He was most recently living with his daughter, Nancy Rohr, in Colorado; however, he spent his adult life in the Central Oregon area living in Redmond and Bend. Phil was divorced and is survived by his daughter Nancy; grandson, Daniel; and great granddaughter, Penny. He worked throughout the Northwest and northern California for Schwab. He received a commendation from the company after the completion of their computer center in Prineville, Oregon. Phil enjoyed hunting, shooting, camping, photography, cars and gardening. He also enjoyed trips to the Oregon coast and photographing animals. One of his more recent enjoyable activities was riding with Nancy to see and photograph the wild life living near her home.
