“ My deepest condolences on the recent passing of Ms Critchfield. I was recently searching for a obituary for a friend of mine when I came across this one & my heart sunk. I used to come in & help with cleaning the house & simply getting to know her on a personal level. I was able to come in & rearrange & clean her closets as well as her garage. We often would talk about her adventures & travels & her love of Ellen. One days eh simply wanted to play train a dominoes game & it was a great afternoon,figuring out the game & talking about the love of her son who had just visited & the love of her granddaughter. Before I left that day she had a group of friends coming over to play cards,& can you believe what a small world it is? One of her friends came to me & said there is only one Philamena Ive ever met & she is the daughter of an old friend of mine. Well long story short my connection with Ms Critchfield led me to a friend of hers with whom my mom had lost touch with for so many years & I was able to reconnect them again. Even though I only got to know her for a short period of time it was one I will never forget. Pat will be missed very much! My deepest condolencesâ
