Dick played a pivotal role in my life, giving me a job at Seaboard Lumber Company on the Duwamish River in Seattle in 1968 which allowed me to pay tuition my freshman year at the University of Washington. I texted him my thanks five years ago, and he told me he was in good health with just a couple minor issues. I just now learned by scanning the Internet that he passed away only a few months later. I would have loved to have had a chance to thank him face-to-face. He was my cousin, and I visited him and his family in Burien that summer. I looked up to him a great deal. Still do.
