“ I remember Sheila from the years she and her husband, noted seascape artist Robert Sherwood, exhibited with me and many other artists in numerous professional art shows in Oregon and Washington. I also visited her and Bob at their house in the village of Cape Meares, Oregon. Sheila was entertaining, vivacious, bright, and contributed much to the successes of the couple in the always challenging art business. I did not see her in later years, but I remember her with sincere affection and appreciation.
