“ I was privileged to have Murph/Tim as a friend. His passing has triggered alot of fond memories..... In our younger days we rode bikes(his was a western flyer); 9th grade football we were the starting left side of the O line; walking to school, Bend High; chasing down the "golden toe" (Murph's #3) kickoffs as a Lava Bear; sharing a locker. We experienced a few "first" like waiting at the police department to be released to our parents; shared alot of laughs; had a fist fight at the courts and Murph was a groomsman at my wedding. I have more memories for another day. Unfortunately, we grew apart as life progressed but he is burned into my memory banks. As the songs go "we may lose and we may win but we will never be here again...".....All of the faces and all of the places wonderine where they alll disappeared.

Take it easy Murph, May You Rest in Peace

*When I think of Tim, I think of his jovial laugh and his friendly demeanor.
I spent time with Tim when he was in his early 20's leaving with my brother. We drank a few beers together at the M & J. Fond memories of Murph.
I knew everyone in the Murphy family. Wonderful people!*

*Spent a lot of hours playing poker and croquet with Tim, Bill Wyatt, and Lisa Wallen at my house during junior high. Loved Tim's jolly laugh and kindness. Good times even if he did cheat at cards. Not well, I might add! Rest in peace, Tim.

Murph was always with us when I started dating Ray Seems. He went everywhere with us, other friend's weddings, parties, barbecues, we were a threesome forever. Murph was the best man in our wedding, and for a very long time, was one of the best people in my life. Murph and Ray were roommates until I came along. He was always a baa humbug kind of guy, didn't really care about holidays. One year, Ray and I bought a Christmas tree, decorated it, and set it on his porch. He was working nights at the bullet factory then. He brought it in and it was there until the end of February! One year, he even dressed up as Santa and came to our house to visit Kellie, who was 2 then. She loved it, and I know he did too. Ray, like Dorian, had a lot of "firsts" in his life with Murph. They both went to St. Francis and I'm sure were sweet little Catholic boys. I have heard many stories about their teenage years, and am happy to know they both lived through it!

In recent years, he has not wanted much contact with his old friends, but he was always in my heart, and forever will be. Ray and I will miss you, Murph.

Misha and I send our most sincere condolences.

I met Tim when we were little kids back when my mother ran the Summer Playground for Parks and Rec and later we went to high school together.

Tim worked at the little mill downtown next to Oregon Trail Wood Products where I worked and when we saw each other he would wave and I would holler "Murph"! He always had a smile on his face.

Rest in Peace, Murph.

I was so sad to hear the passing of Tim. He was a gentle giant of a person and I remember growing up with him and his brothers and sisters. We all grew up on Jefferson Place and enjoyed our time together playing baseball and whatever we could do to get in a little trouble. I would see him around town and try to catch up but there never seemed to be enough time. Rest in peace my friend and you will be missed. All my love to you and your family.
